15. WORKING IN AN OFFICE ENVIRONMENT

To avoid tripping hazards, all office accommodation and associated store rooms and stairs must be maintained in a neat and tidy condition and access and egress to all areas must remain unimpeded by any files, equipment or other items, for example, umbrellas left open to dry out.

No objects should be stored on the treads of any staircase. Cables must be routed so as to avoid creating tripping hazards or must be protected with suitable cable covers to reduce the tripping hazards and to prevent damage to the cable.

Storage facilities must be organised in such a way that files or other materials can be stored and retrieved without risk. Only lightweight goods should be stored above shoulder height or below knee height. Where goods are stored at high level, means must be provided so that they can be reached safely, that is office steps. Where such equipment is provided it must be maintained in good order.

Filing cabinets can tip if more than one drawer is opened at any one time. Drawers should be kept closed when not in use. Whenever possible, heavy/bulky files should be stored in the lower half of the filing cabinet.

All furniture and equipment should be maintained in a good state of repair. Defective furniture and equipment, particularly sharp edges on metal furniture, can be hazardous. Any such defects must be reported to management or their representatives without delay.

Many items of electrical equipment are in use in the office environment. No worker should attempt to rectify any electrical defect. All servicing and maintenance of electrical equipment should only be undertaken by a suitable and qualified competent person. Records must be kept of such servicing and maintenance.

16. WORKING AT COMPUTER WORK STATIONS

Working at computer work stations is a necessary part of most workers' duties.

SMCAG will provide appropriate equipment to reduce the risk of injury, including wrist rests, footrests, document holders, appropriate seating and work stations.

SMCAG will pay for annual eye tests for all workers who use VDUs. The responsibility for arranging such a test lies with individual workers. The fee must be in line with the standard NHS fee.

The following guidelines should be followed by all workers to reduce the risk of injury/damage to health, regardless of the amount of time spent working at computer work stations:

- To reduce the risks of visual fatigue and repetitive strain injury: take regular breaks from the screen (at least once an hour): when possible, try to vary the type of work you do on the VDU so that you are not, for example, inputting data for long periods of time. This is to reduce the risks of visual fatigue and repetitive strain injuries.
- Adjust your seat or stop working if you feel uncomfortable.
- If you develop physical symptoms which could be associated with working at a computer work station (e.g. headaches, problems with vision, sore hands and/or wrists, back pain) you should report these to your line manager.
- Follow guidance to ensure your work station is set up correctly and that you are sitting properly.

17. GUIDELINES ON MANUAL HANDLING

Signed: Supna Thadha
Position: Chair

Date: 19th April 2022
Review Date: 19th April 2023

There is some lifting and handling involved in most workers' tasks [e.g. carrying display boards, boxes of leaflets]. In order to reduce the risk of injury the following guidelines should be followed by all workers:

- Workers are not required to lift or handle any object which they perceive would put themselves at risk of injury. Assistance or guidance should be sought from another worker.
- Where possible use mechanical aids, e.g. sack cart.
- Use common sense to minimise risk, e.g. carry the minimum weight possible, minimise the amount of time you spend walking with the load by involving other people in a "human chain".
- Follow the good handling techniques as advised.
- If in doubt, don't lift the object and speak to your line manager for guidance.

18. GUIDELINES ON WORKING ALONE

Workers are not required to enter into or continue working in any situation where they feel at risk. If a worker feels at risk or to have been at risk in a particular situation they must report it to their line manager.

Home Visits

If you are intending to make a home visit, another worker should be informed of where you are going and when you are expected to have completed your visit. Details of the client's address and telephone number should be easily accessible.

When you are carrying out a home visit:

- Try to ensure that you have easy access to an unlocked exit at all times (for example, take the seat nearest the door).
- If they are causing you concern, ask that any dogs (or other pets) be removed to another room.
- Record and report any indication of your client having had a history of violent or abusive behaviour. Record and report any perceived threat of violent or abusive behaviour.
- Leave the premises quickly if your client (or any other person present) becomes aggressive or threatening.
- Obtain support and guidance after any situation in which you feel threatened.
- Carry a mobile phone and/or personal alarm.
- Do not give out your personal address or telephone number.

Door-to-Door Leafleting Work

If you are intending to do door-to-door leafleting, another worker should be informed of where you are going and when you are expected to have completed your work. Details of the area to be covered should be passed to your line manager.

- Where possible work in pairs and stay in close contact with your partner.
- Carry a mobile phone and/or personal alarm.
- Do not enter any premises or area which you perceive may be threatening to you.
- Do not work in the dark, or in any areas which are particularly secluded.

Working Alone in the Office and Personal Safety

SMCAG will try and ensure that the times when people work alone are kept to a minimum, particularly outside usual office hours (i.e. 9.00am – 5.00pm).

There are various precautions which can be taken to reduce the risk to a worker working alone. These precautions will include any or all of the following depending on the individual situation, and employees should use their own judgement about which of the following apply:

- If you are intending to work outside office hours, another member of staff (preferably your line manager) should be informed.
- Keep the external door locked, and only open it to a caller if you judge that this does not present undue risk to yourself. If you decide not to open the door, ask the caller to make an appointment to come back when there are other people present, or to use the telephone to communicate with the organisation.
- Be aware of your personal safety if you are working alone, particularly in the evening, including leaving the office premises, and take appropriate action to safeguard this e.g. call for a taxi, park your car as close to the office as possible (if appropriate), ring for assistance (another member of staff, the police) and stay put until help arrives.
- Be aware of your personal safety if you are attending external meetings on behalf of SMCAG in the evening. Try to walk to car parks or public transport stations with other people you know, or call a taxi if you perceive you could be at risk. In both of these circumstances SMCAG will pay the cost of the taxi fare.
